The Name

"Blessed be His glorious Name for ever" (Psa. 72. 19)

DEAR Lord, why are these ready tears
At every thought of Thee
Who art my peace, and hope, and joy,
Gladness of life to me?

Thy Name, dear Lord, has ever power
The deepest depths to move,
Be it by unclean lips invoked,
Or breathed in fervent love.

Oh, Name above all other names!
Jesus, my Saviour, Lord!
Name at which every knee shall bow,
Holy, Incarnate Word.

Is it Thy gracious Spirit speaks,
Telling the humbled heart
Thy Name is Thee Thyself, and all
That Thou hast done and art?

When on Thy manger bed I look,
Sweet Babe of Bethlehem,
I see th' Eternal Son, come down
To suffer grief and shame.

Well might the angels weep that night,
When thro' the skies they came,
Telling glad tidings of great joy,
Proclaiming peace to men.

For Thou, whom they adoring sang—
Of Heaven the Joy and Light—
Had left that bright abode to share
With men, a world of night.

I see Thee too, upon the Cross,
And, as they pierce Thee through,
I hear Thee say, "Father, forgive."
They know not what they do."

By tender hands, into the tomb,
I see Thee gently borne,
Guarded by earth and hell and heaven
'Till resurrection morn.

Jesus, Eternal Son of God;
Jesus, the manger-born;
Jesus, the man of sorrows sore;
Jesus, despised, and lorn;

Jesus, Thou Lamb of Calvary;
Christ of the riven tomb:
As Mary saw Thee through her tears,
So, too, I see Thee come.

And, Lord, as is the promise bow
Seen only through the rain,
So I would look upon Thy face,
Forgetting not Thy pain,

That won for me Eternal Life,
And—crowning gift of grace—
A place where I may dwell with Thee,
And ever see Thy face.

There I shall praise Thee as I would,
My tear-dimmed faith now sight,
Earth shadows gone, for there Thou art,
O Lamb of God, the Light!

My Commission

"And the Lord said unto me, Arise" (Acts 22. 10)

"Be ye therefore followers of God" (Eph. 5. 1)

THY voice is calling, Lord, ever calling to me,
Calling as once it called to the fishermen by the sea,
"O soul, arise! leave all thy cherished store
Of earthly good, and thus follow me evermore."

Thy love is claiming me, Lord, claiming both heart and soul,

Claiming my mind and strength, not partly, but the whole.
Am I worth Thy notice? Ah! swiftly I heed Thy voice,
And coming, I feel every pulse of my being rejoice.

Thy example enchains me. O Master! I covet to know
Thy fulness of love, and so in Thy likeness to grow,
That earth with its mist of tears cannot hide the face
Of our Father in heaven Who sheds on us glory and grace.

Oh, what will my work be, Lord? I would serve Thee well,
Would know Thee and love Thee, and then to the world would tell

That life is only worth living if Thou art near
To help us to win the souls that to Thee are dear.

For Thy life was given for them, and Thy blood was shed,
And Thy Spirit, the Father's gift, can quicken the dead.
O teach me Thy wooing note, that I call not in vain
To the wandering sons of men in their darkness and pain.

Till Thy kingdom established shall rule in the hearts of men,

And the blessed life of heaven shall be found again
On the earth; and all evil Thy power shall destroy,
And Thy ransomed ones gather to Thee in fulness of joy.

Learn of Me

“Learn of Me . . . and ye shall find rest” (Matt. 11. 29)

A VOICE Divine says, ‘Learn of Me,’
It speaks in tender tone;
Lord, may we bow to learn of Thee,
Speak Thou to us each one.

Forgive that we have often failed
To listen to Thy word,
And other voices have prevailed
To keep us from Thee, Lord.

As now in penitence we pray,
Intent Thy voice to hear,
For all that Thou shalt have to say,
O give the open ear.

For all that Thou hast taught us, Lord,
Accept our praises now,
For pardon Thy grace doth afford
At Calvary we bow.

All knowing Thou! how great Thou art!
So great we cannot know;
Expecting faith give every heart
For wonders Thou wilt show.

Yea, day by day, Thy teaching grant,
And give us grace to learn,
With Thee supply for every want
For those who to Thee turn.

So trained by Thee, a further prayer
We humbly beg of Thee—
That this may be our loving care,
To teach Thy ‘Learn of Me.’

The Love of God

"His great love wherewith He loved us" (Eph. 2. 4)

WONDERFUL love—the love of our Father,
Tender and true;
For no earthly love can with it compare,
And until we know it our hearts are bare—
'Tis ever new.

Discerning love—the love of our Father,
His eye can see
Just what we need for each hour of the day;
And He sends forth strength and help for our way,
For you—for me.

Almighty love—the love of our Father,
So deep, so strong;
The heart cannot fathom the depth or height,
And its entrance in turns darkness to light
And sighs to song.

Beautiful love—the love of our Father,
Oh, taste and see
How gracious He is! He spared not His Son,
But gave Him freely for a world undone,
To set us free.

Eternal love—the love of our Father,
Let us adore;
When perils and dangers of life are past
We shall dwell with Him in Heaven at last,
For evermore!

The Shadow of Thy Wings

"In the shadow of Thy wings will I make my refuge" (Psa. 51. 1)

WHEN I know not how to bear
All the weight of daily care,
And perplexities surround me everywhere;
I have got a Refuge sweet,
A secure and safe Retreat,
In the shadow of the Lord's almighty wings.

When my cry of pain ascends,
Love Eternal comprehends
And immediately sweet consolation sends;
Touch Divine my trouble quells,
Every worry He dispels
While I hide beneath the shadow of His wings.

When I cannot understand
All His providence hath planned,
I can trust and leave the issues in His hand;
For the Father knoweth best,
So confidently I rest
In the shelter of His strong protecting wings.

There I can be glad and sing
And give thanks for every thing,
Heeding little what the rolling seasons bring:
For assuredly I know
Needed grace He will bestow,
While abiding in the shadow of His wings.

Thus whatever be the fear
That oppresses me while here,
Evermore Divine solicitude is near;
Deepest joy His love can give,
As I in His presence live
Underneath the restful shadow of His wings.

Encouragement—Discouragement

“The soul of the people was much discouraged” (Num. 21. 4)

“David encouraged himself in the Lord his God” (1 Sam. 30. 6)

OH, ne’er be discouraged because of the way!

But more and more praise our dear Saviour each day,
Whose grace is sufficient to help us along
And change sad bemoaning to glad, cheerful song!

King David encouraged himself in the Lord,
His mind being stayed on the One he adored:
When all things seemed gloomy, and troubles increased,
He blessed God at all times—his praise never ceased.

Then be not discouraged because of the way,
There’s nought need alarm us, nor cause us dismay,
God’s Right Hand upholds us, we’re kept by His power,
For He is our Fortress, our Strength, and our Tower.

Thus strong in the Lord and the power of His might,
To help the discouraged will be our delight;
Obeying His voice, all discouragements flee,
We joy in our God whose blest face we’ll soon see.

We know not the day nor the hour He’ll appear,
But we are assured that His coming is near!
Then look up, redeemed ones, and praise Him anew—
To God’s worthy Name give the glory that’s due.

Just the Same

IT'S just the same between us, Lord,
Yes, just the same
As when I first believed Thy Word,
And loved Thy Name;
The years bring change, but love burns on,
A warm red flame.

It's just the same between us, Lord,
'Tis Thine to lead,
And mine to follow feet adored,
With tireless speed;
It should be mine to trust—'tis Thine
To meet all need.

It's just the same between us, though
My faith is tried
By testing I would fain not know—
By things denied;
How could my heart think doubting thoughts
Of such a Guide?

It's just the same between us, Lord—
I rest in this,
When I have failed to keep Thy word,
Or read amiss
Thy beckoning glance, and then I seek
Thy pardoning kiss.

It's just the same between us, Lord—
A sweet glad sense
Of close acquaintance, secrets stored,
And love intense:
The hand-clasp of the weakest with Omnipotence!

Faith Tested

"Endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ"
(2 Tim. 2. 3)

ENDURE the hardness, firm remain—
Through faith and courage mount and gain
Experience that may prove, ere long,
A lasting and a wondrous song.

Others have passed through sorrow's way,
And been a blessing in their day;
Shining as some rare precious stone,
Gems our dear Saviour loves to own.

So faint not, nobly take your cross,
That gain may flow through seeming loss;
Christ shines upon each loyal path,
Sowing for some great aftermath.

On Habits

THE habits we form, how all-powerful they are,
They mar life, or make us a helpful bright star.
Oh! let us strive ever to live at our best,
Not only that we ourselves may be blest,
But scatter some good seed that others may see
Whose fruitage from bitterness ever is free.
Control us, dear Saviour, breathe on us that we
A blessing to those who surround us may be.
May our influence never lead others astray,
But guide some to seek Thee, the Light and the Way.

The Promised Guide

"He will guide you into all truth" (John 16. 13)

"He shall teach you all things" (John 14. 26)

LED by the Spirit let us pray to be,
So that our hearts with joy are nearer drawn
To Christ our King, so that by faith we see
That, when by Him was human nature worn
Through Love Divine, He carried out His plan
To be the Way, the Truth, the Life for man.

Taught by the Spirit let us pray to be,
So that we gain new knowledge of the price
Paid for our sin, and see more vividly
Our Christ as Priest, Himself the Sacrifice,
Who conquered Death, and rose no more to die,
Who lives to intercede for us on high.

Thus led and taught, our love for Christ will grow
And prove its strength by yielding an increase
Of kindly words and deeds—an overflow
To other hearts, bestowing joy and peace.
Such gladdening fruit of love to Him will be
A glorifying gift from you and me.

Our Home

"He blesseth the habitation of the just" (Prov. 3. 33)

BLESS our habitation, Lord,
Here do Thou delight to dwell;
May Thy presence at our board
Discontented murmuring quell;
Guard our dwelling from all ill,
Let no plague its doors come nigh,
Lord! Thy promise here fulfil—
All our needs do Thou supply.

May all those who sojourn here
Be the better for their stay;
May each guest, Lord, find Thee near;
Live with us, Lord, day to day.
Be the Head of this our home,
"Silent listener at each meal,"
When our friends, Lord, hither come,
May they all His presence feel.

Let no talk offend Thine ears:
None which Thou dost disapprove;
Banish all our worldly fears,
May Thy love our actions move;
Giving up all selfish ease,
Others serving by our love,
Seeking thus Thyself to please,
Here, Lord, may we faithful prove.

Every morning when we wake
Be Thy presence our first thought;
And as each our way we take
May our works in Thee be wrought;
Bless our habitation, Lord,
Here do Thou vouchsafe to stay,
To each one Thy help afford,
Live with us from day to day.

God is Love

"And now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is love" (1 Cor. 13. 13)

THOUGH golden-tongued and eloquent,
I speak with prophecy,
My angel's voice is empty sound,
If love be not in me;
What though I sway the minds of men,
Vaunting my secret lore,
Or summon faith to set the hills
Where ne'er stood they before.

In charity, all I possess,
Loveless, I may bestow;
Or feed the flames of martyrdom,
Yet love may fail to show.
For love is tender, patient, kind,
Humble, contented, meek,
Believes the best, resents no slight,
Stands fast, upholds the weak.

All passes, love alone remains;
Knowledge grows stale and old;
Our transient lives are swiftly spent,
But love will ne'er wax cold:
When childish things are set aside,
And dim reflections pale,
Then shall we know as we are known,
And love victorious hail!

All is but worthless lacking love,
For GOD Himself is LOVE.

HARROGATE, YORKS.

MARY BRITTAIN

LOVE is the seed dropped from the garden of God into the human heart when made clean by the precious blood of Christ. There, under the gracious influences of the Holy Spirit, it grows and blossoms with rare beauty and perfume like the Rose of Sharon and the Lily of the Valley.

Victory Ahead

"God giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ"
(1 Cor. 15. 57)

HAST thou stumbled in the conflict,
Well nigh fallen in the race?

Gird thyself afresh for conquest,
Look the whole world in the face.

Let this watchword be your motto
When you falter by the way;
'Victory ahead' is always
Sure to them who Him obey.

Christ thy Lord will thee enable,
Naught of strength hast thou beside;
Wholly trust, for God is able
Thee to keep whate'er betide.

Glorify Thy Name

WHETHER here, or whether there,
May I to Thyself be true;

Whether this, or whether that,
Help me keep this goal in view:
'FATHER, GLORIFY THY NAME!'

Divine Comfort

God's love is not altered by life's circumstances, and a gracious eye ever beholds God's gracious hand.

I Shall Awake

"I shall be satisfied, when I awake with Thy likeness"
(Psa. 17. 15)

THE hour may come when the blest hush of sleep
Shall soothe my wearied frame and lay me down
In peaceful slumber, calm, refreshing, deep,
Until the Bridegroom comes to claim His own.

Then shall I hear high Heaven's clarion call,
And mounting, rise to meet Him in the air;
I shall not falter, I shall reach the goal,
My blessed Lord in love invites me there.

Far, far removed from earthly things and time,
Far from the bleak domain of blighting sin,
My ransomed soul in ecstasy sublime
Shall leaping, praise Him, as I enter in.

There shall I see my Lord upon His throne,
Gaze on the beauty of His radiant face,
Praise Him for all the wonders He hath done
That brought me to the eternal trysting place.

Blest are the ties that bind me close to Thee,
Bright is the path, that leads me home to God;
No work of mine could e'er have rescued me,
Naught but His death, and His atoning blood.

WINNIPEG, SASK.

The Blessed Hope

SUCH a hope is good for me in sadness, being full of encouragement; in doubt, as it is so full of promise; in carelessness, for it is full of warning; in contrition, seeing that it is so full of mercy; in everything, because it is so full of a person, yea, Christ Himself.

A NEW OXFORD REFERENCE BIBLE

ONYX 16mo EDITION

When it is realised that the Holy Bible consists of 66 separate books, 1,189 chapters, and more than 770,000 words, the difficulties of producing a "general-purpose" Reference Bible of reasonable compass in a type that can be easily read, will be acknowledged. Perhaps the Bible that hitherto has most nearly answered these requirements has been the popular Oxford Emerald edition, and to improve on this without increasing the bulk of the book has been no easy task. By reason of the great progress recently made in typographical design, however, it has been found possible after numerous experiments, to produce a volume that is not only more easy to read, but one that is actually reduced in extent by no fewer than 160 pages
